HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

There's been a lot about juvenile delinquency in the papers from students, principals, parents, police and public—from just about everybody but teachers.

Here's a letter from a teacher at Point Loma High School:

The recent publicity about the San Diego "Blackboard Jungle" has made us pretty mad at times, but actually it's good to have people caring what goes on.

We resent exaggerated reports that make the schools sound like frightening places, teachers and respectable kids cowering before rat-packs with switch-blade knives who flout all the rules.

The fact is, the schools aren't nearly as bad as one might expect from the way many teen-agers act at home!

There are no gangs at Point Loma High School roaming the halls, pushing the other students around, extorting money from teachers, smoking in class, or threatening anyone with knives. Students don't speak to their teachers the way they speak to their families—most teachers wouldn't stand for it.

* * *

However, the school atmosphere could be better than it is, and while teachers on the whole are doing a much better job than the public has any right to expect, they are frustrated in some ways.

Their administrators are faced with two big hazards: (1) This state wants us to keep the kids in school till they're 18; and (2) Authorities want delinquents to associate with normal kids in the hope they will improve.

Bad boys used to be expelled. You never hear of that any more. Offenders are given a second chance, and a third chance, and more. They're allowed to come back to public school after a term in a juvenile institution. They're shifted from school to school, the guidance counselor has long talks with them to try to get them to behave—anything to adjust the student, to keep him in school till he's 18.

Some do learn to fit in; but some get the idea they can get away with anything and still will be kept in school.

These latter are utterly bored in class. You think they care how to write an intelligent sentence? Or what caused World War I? Or anything else adults want them taught?

They don't listen, they don't study, they sneer at the kids who do, they look for something to break the monotony. Naturally, they get into trouble again.

* * *

I've seen a whole 10th grade of more than 400 students infected with the idea that it was smart to be bored; that anyone who tried to cooperate with the teachers, learn anything, get good grades, was an oddball.

If a certain small group had been removed for misbehavior, so the majority could see that cooperation was smarter than boredom—what a difference it would have made in those classes!

Let's make it easier for administrators to do something about the trouble-makers. They could be put on a short-day schedule, not permitted to stay on the grounds for lunch or to join in any student activities. They could be sent to a special school to learn a trade.

Or they could be eliminated altogether, before 18, without an act of Congress . . . Let's make high school a privilege, for those who want it and deserve it!

BERNADINE MILLER

Bernadene Miller, seventh grader at Dana Junior High School, will reign as "Miss Cookie" when the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale for San Diego County starts Saturday morning, Feb. 18, at 9 o'clock.

Dates Announced For Annual S. D. Yellowtail Derby

Announcement of dates and plans for the 10th annual San Diego Yellowtail Derby by Wally Featheringill, representing the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce, shared the spotlight with superior bottom fishing catches and a couple of deep sea oddities this week.

The derby will begin March 31, end Sept. 22, and will be held in three eight-week periods with a fishoff for the 150 top anglers to follow the close of each period.

Value of the first three prizes in each fishoff has been increased to compensate for the reduction from four periods to three, although the over-all length of the derby is the same. For example, winner will receive a Ford Station Wagon instead of the two-door standard sedan offered the last two years. A 15-foot house trailer goes to the runner-up and a boat-motor-trailer combination to third. Other prizes will be announced later.

Derby dates are: First period—Begins March 31, ends May 26, fishoff on Friday, June 1. Second period—Begins May 27, ends July 21, fishoff on Friday, July 27. Third period—Begins July 22, ends Sept. 15, fishoff on Saturday, Sept. 22.

Chief of the fishing oddities was the capture of a female adult whale by the sportfishing boat Fisherette. Skipper Offie Collins reported that he saw the whale in distress on the surface, apparently dying and under attack by a school of sharks. He drove the latter off, took the whale in tow, and brought her in at the request of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography.

Another oddity was the taking of a seven pound salmon at the local rock cod banks by a commercial fishing boat.

Arrayed around the tent are some of the Parade's Futurliners—vans that open up to display many of the wonders of modern research and science.

THREE MORE PERFORMANCES OF 'JACK & THE BEANSTALK'

Capacity audiences were captured by the exciting show last weekend. They were entranced by such scenes as Jack being chased around tables and over chairs until the Magic Harp saves him by playing the Giant to sleep, and Jack stopping to talk to the Man in the Moon as he climbs down the beanstalk on his way back to earth.

Tickets may be purchased at the box office the day of the show or phone Jr. Theatre, BE-4-1447, to make reservations. Groups of ten or more youngsters have one adult admitted free of charge.

"The Moon Is Blue," romantic comedy which ran for 924 performances on Broadway and scored record-breaking successes when toured from coast to coast, will open Tuesday, February 21 at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park as a San Diego Community Theatre production under the direction of Craig Noel.

This celebrated hit by F. Hugh Herbert, the author of "Kiss and Tell" and "For Love or Money," will be presented nightly except Mondays at 8:30 through March 18.

The action in "The Moon Is Blue" tells of a young man and girl who meet in the observation tower of the Empire State Building in New York City. He is on the rebound from a broken engagement, and she is a pretty would-be actress who baffles all the men she meets by her combination of candor and charm.

In the Globe production of "The Moon Is Blue," this pair will be played by Lynna Armour and Richard Reynolds. H. C. Rust will be seen as a cynical and somewhat alcoholic middle-aged rake, while the other member of the cast will be Gene Graves who portrays a tough Irish policeman who has one of the briefest acting assignments ever known—to rush onstage, throw a punch in the eye of one of the other male chaarcters and then rush off again.

"The Moon Is Blue" has been hailed by critics across the country as one of the funniest plays recently produced. The motion picture version featured William Holden, David Niven and Maggie McNamara, who starred in the Chicago production, while Barbara Bel Geddes created the New York role with Barry Nelson and Donald Cook playing the major male roles.

Army To Use Azure Vista For Gun Installations?

Possibility the Army will utilize Azure Vista public housing area for anti-aircraft gun installations loomed today.

Sixth Army Headquarters at San Francisco recently placed a "hold" order on Azure Vista, Ocean Beach, and Bayview Terrace, Pacific Beach, which had been scheduled for sale to private bidders.

The Army is conducting a survey to determine whether these PHA areas are suitable for National Guard anti-aircraft gun installations, is was reported.

Mayor Charles C. Dail plans to seek information in Washington, D. C., about Army plans to develop such installations. Councilmon Chester Schneider said: "It's not necessary to put defense installations in the middle of these housing areas. There are 10 areas in San Diego under military control where these units could be set up."

(Ocean Beach residents wondered why Fort Rosecrans, with several hundred "idle acres," could not be used for the purpose.)

The "hold" on Azure Vista and Bayview Terrace is in effect until April 15, by which time the survey is expected to be completed.

DIRECT DISTANCE—Ray Bogaert, left, telephone company switchman, checks some of the new lines connecting ACademy-2 and ACademy-3 numbers with the new Direct Distance Dialing office at 7th and University Aves. He and John Hanley, right, are working on the equipment maintenance end of the program.

DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING

Words like "direct distance dialing," "automatic message accounting," and "trouble-recording card" are becoming part of the everyday conversation of two telephone employees.

They are Ray Bogaert, 970 Temple St., and John Hanley, 3384 Baltimore St.

They are part of a group that recently completed a 32 weeks training class on the operation of equipment which will enable local telephone users to dial many of their own long distance calls after April 15th.

Around 22,000,000 telephones in Southern California and 18 other major sections of the country are included in the schedule.

Bogaert explains "direct distance dialing" as the official name for the program. "Automatic message accounting" refers to the new procedure for timing calls, and "trouble-recording card" relates to the "brain" of the equipment which automatically locates many of its own trouble spots.

Focal point for calls will be the telephone company's recently completed office at 7th and University avenues, San Diego.

Additional underground cables now are being placed tying in the local office with D.D.D. headquarters.

Suggestions Asked For O. B. Daz-O-Fun

With the annual Daz-O-Fun scheduled for Aug. 17-19 in Ocean Beach, Chairman Jim Noel this week asked readers of the Peninsula News to suggest a theme for this year's celebration.

The three possibilities are Spanish, which was the 1955 theme; Hawaiian or Western.

However, the Daz-O-Fun will be held during San Diego's Fiesta del Pacifico, whose theme, of course, is Spanish, and it has been suggested that Ocean Beach go along with the prevailing Spanish atmosphere of the city-wide Fiesta.

Suggestions should be mailed to John Pierce, secretary, O. B. Chamber of Commerce, 1918 Bacon St.

POPUP

The Point Loma couple had lived in their new house six months, and the popup on the bathtub never had worked. When the plumber came to fix it, the owner explained how he managed to take a bath: "I turn the water on full force. Then I jump in the tub and bathe before it can all run out."

"It just 'sends' me, too," answered the mother. "Yep, it sends me right out of the house."

Woman's Club Honors Mrs. Fraser At Its 30th Birthday Celebration

By MARIAN KRETTLER

Mrs. David Fraser, who has been the guardian angel of the Ocean Beach Woman's Club since its modest beginning thirty years ago, was honored at the Club's thirtieth birthday celebration on Thursday.

For 38 years, Mrs. Fraser has been a prominent figure in clubdom. A recording was made of her talk when she told of how Federation among women has grown from unimportance to its powerful influence throughout the world. A wise and very loving person, she said that the door of the heart opens only from the inside. The speaker was elected as a life member of the local club, and she brought a gift to her cherished children, a beautiful silver tray.

For many weeks, preparations for the gala day had continued. The flowers centering each table were, in their coloring, approaches to Spring. Those pink hearts, everywhere in the gorgeously adorned building, bore that magic number, "Thirty." A reminder to those who will carry on after us, that the Ocean Beach Woman's Club is an integral part of this area.

For the first time in this correspondent's memory, the women did not work. We all arrived in our finest apparel for the luncheon which was catered—and bountiful. Very snooty. No?

The gentle president, Edythe Kenline, gave credit to the many who had assisted in the festivities.

I found myself seated by Katherine Rigg, and she is really something! Aged eighty-two, she still reads without glasses, and she is a miracle.

In conclusion, on this gala day, Mrs. Martin Hunting read a terse and interesting account of our local club's history.

Mrs. Ralph Stothard, program chairman ,did a grand job in introducing the speakers, and incidentally, Ruth and her helpers worked themselves to shreds in making our thirtieth birthday anniversary a success.

The American Homes section of the club will gather at ten a.m. on Wednesday, February 29. The change was made because of the intervening holiday.

PENINSULA PERSONALITIES

By AVIS STONE

A strange switch in events was met by Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Waltner and their 10-month-old daughter, Ann Marie, who so recently arrived here from Hurley, South Dakota.

It seems that Mrs. Waltner had a sister, Mrs. Michael Wieczorck, who was living here on Del Mar Ave. and in true sisterly fashion, the Waltners decided to move out here in order to keep family ties close. They even bought a home on Orchard Ave. just a block away. Then came the switch—the Wieczorck family had a business transfer that moved them to Banning!

What about the Waltners? Well, they liked it here and have sold their farm in South Dakota and Mr. Waltner is planning on a future in the management of a gas station business.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Wake, who are originally from Galesburg, Ill. but have made Waukegan, Ill. their home for the past two years, have decided to make their permanent home in this area.

The Wakes are not new to this territory having been frequent visitors at the home of their daughter, Mr. William B. Shirrod, who lives on Savoy.

Mr. Wake, who is employed at Convair as an instructor, and his wife are very pleased with their newly purchased home on Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Dowdy, of 4896 Voltaire St., have been entertaining Mrs. Porter R. Dowdy who arrived Saturday by plane from her home in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blake have arrived here from Newport News, Virginia, for a brief stay and at present reside on Cape May Ave.

John B. Tanner of 3211 Zola St., was elected national commodore of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary at the annual Conference held last Friday in San Francisco.

Tanner is a past captain and a past commodore of the local Coast Guard Auxiliary, and is commodore of the 11th Dist. of the Auxiliary.

Newcomers to this area recently are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy who now reside on W. Pt. Loma Blvd. The Murphys, formerly of Los Angeles, have two children, Pat Jr., 4, and Mitchell, 17 months.

Mrs. William C. Keller of Loma Portal, is anxiously looking forward to the end of February at which time her mother, Mrs. Thomas J. Dixon, who has made her home in Westwood for many years, is expected here.

Mrs. Dixon, for many years a Fellow of the American Institute of Archeology, is interested in the Indian arts, and trips to the Museum of Man and the Fine Arts Gallery are sure to be included during her stay here.

It was a short move from Udal St. to Santa Cruz Ave. for the R. M. Lewis family and it is all over now but the settling. With the help of their two children Richard, 8, and 6-year-old Linda, that problem will soon be solved.

Another change of address in this area was made when Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Lokan moved from Santa Cruz Ave. to the 4600 block on Muir.

According to Mrs. Floyd Breinig, "everything about this area is just wonderful, and that of course includes the weather, but it does get a little lonely without the old friends back home!"

Mrs. Breinig and one-year-old Stephen have come from Nebraska, and at present reside on Saratoga Ave. while her husband is underging U. S. Naval training.

Two Engagements Announced Here

The engagements of two daughters, Carol and Marolyn Harden, have been announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Harden, of 4671 Newport Ave.

Carol, who has attended schools in the East, is engaged to Manuel M. Chula, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel M. Chula of 3036 N. Evergreen St. He attends State College where he is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Marolyn is engaged to Robert W. Sheridan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheridan of Waukegan, Ill. He has studied at Illinois Wesleyan University, and is now atending State College where he is affiliated with Theta Chi Fraternity.

Wedding dates have not been set.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Job's Daughters, Bethel 158, will hold an initiation for eight new members, Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, at 7:30 o'clock at the Point Loma Masonic Lodge, 1711 Sunset Cliffs Blvd.

The girls to be initiated are: Mary Mc[redacted] Susan Ann Howe, Dimaris Helen Howe, Sharon Lee Jones, Kay Roberts, Irene Winther, Darlene Barham and Margaret Dart.

Mrs. Dorothy Wise, deputy grand guardian, will make her official visit.

HEALTH FOR ALL

If you were asked to list the various "rights" which are most important to you, undoubtedly you would include the "right to work." Many of us know the terrible fear and insecurity that come when we lose our jobs or when we are unable to find work.

And few moments in life give as much satisfaction and pride as the moment when we can announce that we have a job, whether it is our first job after leaving school, or a new job ending a period of uncertainty.

We all know that loss of a job through illness gives the sick person tremendous financial worry, worry which often hinders his recovery. The longer the period of illness, the greater the worry, for bills pile up and savings dwindle.

Tuberculosis is a particularly severe economic disaster for the victim, for it often means long treatment ,and it may require curtailed activity or even a new kind of job after the patient is able to go back to work.

Surely, a man who has recovered from TB has the "right to work," certainly he does not want to remain a burden on his family and on the community any longer than necessary.

But he often faces an extra handicap—a large measure of public misinformation about tuberculosis. A former patient who has his doctor's approval to return to work is not a danger to his co-workers. Doctors do not approve a return to work when the disease is in a contagious stage.

If there is someone where you work who has had tuberculosis and who has gone to work with medical approval, you have nothing to fear. On the contrary, you have much to admire—courage and determination to regain a place in the world after a tragic misfortune.

Benefit Dance Set At O. B. 'Center'

Ocean Beach School PTA will sponsor a benefit dance for the unit's youth activities Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

PL SECTION, AAUW

"A Look at Indonesia" will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Joseph Stephenson at a meeting of the Point Loma section of American Association of University women, Friday, Feb. 17, at 7:45 p.m. at Lomaland Hall on the campus of California Western University.

Hostesses will be Dr. Ruth Bourne, Mrs. Clarence B. Loomis and Dr. Mae Von Seeger. Miss Julia G. Severance is section chairman.

Classes in draperies, slipcovers, and upholstery are available at the Midway Adult Center, 3249 Fordham Street. Upholstery classes are available every night of the week—Mon., Thurs., Fri. Call AC-3-1671 for specific information.

YMCA-Indian Guides Schedule 1st 'National Longhouse' Here

Local fathers belonging to the YMCA's-Indian Guides plan to attend the first National Longhouse to be held on the Pacific Coast in San Diego this weekend.

More than 300 delegates from throughout the nation are expected to be on hand for the opening session Friday at the U. S. Grant Hotel. The Longhouse will last through Sunday.

The program of the Red Feather agency was developed in this area recently for boys in the first three elementary school grades. Aimed at drawing fathers and sons closer together, the program is open only to boys whose fathers join with them.

The activity is based on Indian lore, skills and crafts. A large display showing the work of the Y-Indian Guides will be on exhibit in the lobby of the U. S. Grant Hotel. It will be open to the public.

Dudly Armstrong, chairman of the Longhouse steering committee in this area, said meetings for the fathers will consist of panel discussions.

Dr. Paul Smith, president of Whittier College, will speak at the closing general session Sunday afternoon on "Family Living Today and Tomorrow."

ON THE WRONG TRACK?

ONE of the fastest runners I've ever known got all his training right in his own living room between his easy chair and his TV set, adjusting his jittery TV picture. He's now practicing for the low hurdles by putting a coffee table in the way. This is tough on the rug. A jittery TV picture is tough on the nerves, too. And there's no need for it, because we can get rid of those jitters with a new G-E tube here and there. Call us and see!
